

Full burial of a snowmachiner in the Summit Lake Area on Sunday November 29, 2015. The victim and party had transceivers and gear and were able to get him out alive from a deep burial. All were on snowmachines. The victim rode through the creek below Courage when the slope fractured on the bench a hundred yards above him. The 3-4 foot thick slab engulfed him at the bottom.

