

Contact: Debra McGhan
907-982-0332;
dmcghan@alaskasnow.org
12.22.16

95.5 The Pass Snow Report

Happy Holidays Snow Lovers! The Alaska Avalanche Information Center here with your weekly Snow Report thanks to generous support from AARP Alaska and 95.5 the Pass!

Last week brought several inches of new snow to Southcentral Alaska and more is in the forecast for the holiday weekend. Around the Mat-Su Valley expect one to three inches of snow by Sunday.

Up to 12 inches of snow are possible south to Girdwood Valley, Turnagain Pass, and Seward. Snowfall is predicted to diminish by Tuesday in all areas with clearing skies toward the end of next week.

Snow advisories report avalanche danger as CONSIDERABLE above treeline, especially on steeper slopes, with MODERATE danger in the trees and below. Many skier-triggered avalanches are reported as well. EXTREME caution and conservative decision-making is advised in your backcountry planning.

Remember if you are heading into the mountains go prepared. Take your beacon, shovel and probe and know how to use them so you can Live to Ride Another Day!

Consider the gift of safety this year by checking out the training options available at AlaskaSnow.org

All of us at the Alaska Avalanche Information Center want to thank our listeners for your continued support and we wish you a safe and very Merry Christmas!

That's it for this week. Stay safe out there and keep thinking snow.